

Oversized Load Move

SERVICE REQUEST

It's easy to hit a power line when moving an oversized load. Make sure you stay safe by applying for an oversized load move.

The mover (the person actually taking the load) must fill out all applications. Once complete, they'll receive the move authorization. If there's work required, there will be an invoice to follow and the mover is in charge of payment. We don't accept third party requests.

Please give us a minimum of five working days' advanced notice for moving an oversized load (more notice may be required depending on the height and width of the building or structure). If you're unsure that the load you're moving qualifies as oversized, please contact us.

Your mover will need to provide:

- Contact information
- The loaded height of the oversized load
- The route with specific highways, grids, range roads or township numbers (map optional)
- The preferred move date and time
